

JULIA PEIRONE

Córdoba, Argentina, 1973

Lives and works in Stockholm, Sweden

Julia Peirone studied at the University of Photography, Gothenburg and she graduated in 2001 from College of Art, Craft and Design in Stockholm. She has been showing separately at galleries as Brändström & Stene in Stockholm, Galerie F 5.6 in Munich and Daniel Cooney Fine Art in New York. She has also participated in several group exhibitions.

Her work is represented at Kiasma, Museum of Modern Art in Helsinki and other collections. In 2002 she released the book Blind Smek Min Kind with earlier works.

Julia Peirone's work leaves the realm of photography where it deals only with the outer layer of representing the world as it is. Instead her work creates an alternate, very personal inner reality, where small gestures or movements of people become important keys to understanding one tiny aspect of the human condition.

Last Day Of Summer

"I went to Spain to rest and spend time with my boyfriend. Restless as I was I walked along the beach with my camera, finding people spending their last day of summer." Julia Peirone
